

WILD
CITY
STUDIOS

WHO WE ARE

WILD CITY STUDIO is headed by award winning landscape designers and gardeners Jon Davies and Steve Williams. With backgrounds in both music and photography we bring a refreshing perspective to the landscaping industry.

Our collaborative team have a wide skill set; landscape architects, garden designers, urban farmers, mycologists, community gardeners, horticultural experts, ecologists, entomologists, plant specialists and permaculture experts.

PROJECT
Giving Back

CHELSEA FLOWER SHOW 2023

We Believe the relationship between nature connection and our mental health is fundamental. Our garden in collaboration with Centre For Mental Health at CFS23 offers an optimistic vision for the potential of our urban public spaces.

Through a wealth of exciting innovations we showcase an affordable, inclusive and ecologically rich space to support a future of community stewardship.

WILD
CITY
S T U D I O

PROJECT
Giving Back

CENTRE FOR MENTAL HEALTH

THE LEGACY

Our show garden will be relocated to its final home in Markfield Park, Tottenham.

Working with the local community the new pocket park aims to create a much needed hub in a place known for its anti social behaviour.

We want this project to be a poster child for what's possible for our urban futures.

With a passionate group of volunteers we aim to make this an authentic example of the power of community in urban areas that need it most.

WHAT WE DO

The gardening world is changing. The traditional ways can feel out dated and a new audience is emerging that crave a lighter touch and a new re connection with the natural world around them.

Rather than a horticulture heavy “how to” Wild City Studio promotes an optimistic vision for urban land stewardship with affordable and tactile ways to create and connect with the urban land we use.

A CHANGE OF PERSPECTIVE

Through immersive installations, community spaces and mixed media platforms we promote the exciting innovations within the industry for a fresh era of gardeners that may not have the tools and knowledge to know how or where to start.

We encourage a fresh perspective, finding vivid and exciting ways of sharing the importance of urban ecology and the natural processes around us. We want to explore together new ways of working with nature offering a lighter touch and sense of responsibility to steward the cities we love.

WILD
CITY
S T U D I O