

Research Collections materials – Using the online catalogue

All nursery catalogues, archives, rare books, photographs, drawings and historical or scientific journals form part of the Research and Art Collections. Contact the library in advance of your visit so that we can check that materials and study space will be available. You will also need to register the first time you visit.

To work out whether other materials you want to consult are held in the Research Collections or are on open access, the online catalogue will help you:

Search the catalogue from www.rhs.org.uk/libraries.

From the catalogue record, click on Details to see the full record.

Look at the Location information in the lower part of the screen.
