RHS Wisley

Introducing a magnificent new corporate evening entertainment venue

A warm summer evening, the delicious scent of exotic plants and the tinkling of a nearby waterfall – the perfect setting for a corporate event, if only the climate in England could be guaranteed. Well, now it can with the opening of the magnificent new Glasshouse at RHS Wisley in Surrey.

Within this garden under glass, three climatic zones provide the stage for a dramatic theatre of more than 5,000 different cultivated plants, featuring some of the most beautiful in the world. Curving gently upwards to a height of 12.5m, The Glasshouse is large enough to accommodate mature palm trees and covers an area the size of ten tennis courts. As visitors enjoy the three zones – dry temperate, moist temperate and tropical – winding paths take them past rocky outcrops, waterfalls and still pools, and up a gentle slope into the canopy of plants. For any company or individual wanting to host a truly exclusive event, The Glasshouse at RHS Wisley is the perfect venue.

Available for evening events from 7-11pm, The Glasshouse offers visitors wonderful views over the amphitheatre landscape garden, designed by award-winning designer Tom Stuart-Smith, and the splendid lake, which holds enough to water the entire garden at Wisley for two months. For those events where the weather really is glorious, guests can wander outside to enjoy these magnificent surroundings.

A series of themed floral displays will run throughout the year and prospective clients can book The Glasshouse on the basis of these seasonal and themed displays to enhance the attraction of their event.

Accommodating up to 550 guests, The Glasshouse at RHS Wisley can be booked for a variety of special events. By choosing The Glasshouse at RHS Wisley you will be contributing to Britain's leading gardening charity, dedicated to advancing horticulture and promoting gardening.
