Bardendrum Bamboo Dance (Bark. scandens [cyclotella] x Bard. Terusan) was registered in 2004 with Bark. cyclotella as seed parent, SLOH Addendum 2001-2004: 22. As Bark. cyclotella is a synonym of Bark. scandens, this grex is a synonym of Bardendrum Nanboh Pixy, registered in 2001 as the reciprocal cross (Bard. Terusan x Bard. scandens 'Cycotelle').

Dendrobium Mountain Village Baiyun was recorded by error as Moutain Village Baiyun in 1991, SLOH Addendum 1991-1995 p. 312. See Orchid Hybrids of Singapore 1893-2003 p. 73 (2005).

Paphiopedilum Little by Little in Quart. Suppl. Int. Reg. Orch. Hyb. 113(1264): 12 (July 2005) has priority over Paph. Little One in Quart. Suppl. Int. Reg. Orch. Hyb. 113(1265): 14 (Sept. 2005), and consequently becomes a parent of Paph. Baby Baby.

Paphiopedilum Miescha (Paph. Muriel Constance x Paph. micranthum) registered in July 2004 has priority over Paph. Tannacity Rose, based on the reciprocal cross, that was accepted in error in August 2004. The registrar offers his apologies to those concerned.

Paraphalaenopsis Nonito Dolera was named after Nonito (Noni) Dolera, a Philippino orchid breeder, but recorded as Phal. Nonieto Dolera in SLOH Addendum 1999-2001: 613 by error. See Orchid Hybrids of Singapore 1893-2003 p. 169, 215 (2005).

Paravanda Janine Côté-Wilkinson appeared in SLOH 2002-2004 Addendum p.602 incorrectly assigned. Please note that the registrant and originator should read Woon Leng Nurs.

Phalaenopsis Jill Amy was registered in October 2004 and hence has priority over Phal. Taida Taipei Lawrence which was accepted by mistake in June 2005.

Potinara E. Wenzel (Slc. Chris Magic x Blc. Sun King) appeared in Quart. Suppl. Int. Reg. Orch. Hyb. 113(1264): 3 (July 2005) under Brassolaeliocattleya because of an error in parentage. Please change Blc. Orquidacea's Chris Magic to read Slc. Chris Magic. As a result, the registration of Potinara Orquidacea's Real Player in Quart. Suppl. Int. Reg. Orch. Hyb. 113(1265): 3 (Sept. 2005) appeared under Blc., where in the parentage Blc. E. Wenzel should read Pot. E. Wenzel.

REGISTRAR'S NOTES

Catasetum trulla and Ctism. socco

The name Catasetum trulla Lindl. (1840) has been widely used for a Brazilian species since its publication. However the earliest name for this plant is Cypripedium socco Vell. (1831), and consequently the combination Catasetum socco (Vell.) Pfitz. (1930) has priority and will now be used for registration. The history of the plant and its name are related under Ctism. trulla in Holst, The world of Catasetum 1999: 237-238. Thanks to George Carr for bringing this to my attention.

Caularthron and Diacrium

In the continuing gradual replacement of invalid hybrid generic names, Tetradiaacrium is replaced with Tetrarthron [Ttt.] = Caularthron Raf. x Tetramicra Lindl.

Caularstedella [Clt.] = Caularthron Raf. x Oerstedella Rchb.f.

Cynoches Beny Harder is the registered name for the hybrid Cynoches peruviana x Cyc. lehmannii. It appears that this hybrid has also been distributed by some Latin American sources under the unregistered name Cyc. Bene, which may have originated as an abbreviation.

Dendrobium

The following notes have arisen in response to questions raised by Charles Sato of Hawaii, who has been working on a list of HonoHono hybrids, a name applied in Hawaii to grexes derived from Den. anosmum (syn. leucorhodum; macranthum; macrophyllum; scortechinii; superbum), Den. aphyllum (syn. cucullatum; madrasense; pierardii), Den. loddigesii (syn. pulchellum Lodd. non Roxb.; seidelianum), Den. parishii and Den. primulinum (syn. nobile var. pallidiflora), all within Dendrobium section Dendrobium. The term HonoHono is used as a vernacular name for the non-orchid Wandering Jew plant (Commelina diffusa) with long drooping stems and broad leaves, which these orchids superficially resemble.

Den. Adastra (aphyllum x anosmum, as pierardii x superbum) appears as Den. Adrasta in Sander's List [SLOH] 1947: 136. The spelling Adrasta is an error.

Den. polyphlebium has been treated in the register as a grex, with the spelling Den. Polyphloeobium listed in SLOH 1950: 140 as a natural hybrid, 'probably pierardii x rhodopterygium' and in the current register as aphyllum x parishii. Firstly, the orthography of the epithet is questionable as it was evidently intended to mean 'many-veined' from the Greek poly - many, and phlebos - vein, and hence should be written polyphlebium. The spelling polyphloeobium is rejected as an error.

Secondly, there is the question of its treatment as a hybrid or species. Dendrobium polyphlebium first appeared in Gard. Chron. 1887(1): 702, when it was awarded a Bot. Cert. and was also illustrated in Warner & Williams' Orchid Album t. 229. It was described by Reichenbach f. in Gard. Chron. 1887(2): 242. An abstract appearing in Kew Bull. Add. Ser. 4: 152 (1900), provides the following description, 'Habit and flowers of Den. pierardii, but the sepals and petals are broader, of a bright rosy colour; lip rounded, slightly fringed and hairy, the basal part pale with three keels and numerous radiating purple veins, the disk rich purple, and the margin whitish or pale yellow. Burma.' The abstract then equates it with Den. rhodopterygium Rchb.f. in Gard. Chron. 1875(1): 684. The World Monocots Checklist treats both Den. polyphlebium and rhodopterygium as synonyms of Den. parishii. Lavarack et al. (2000) Dendrobium and its relatives p. 152 accepts Den. rhodopterygium with the qualifier 'very closely related to Den. parishii, and may eventually be shown to be a synonym of that species.' It appears that all three species names are based on wild collected material and it is inappropriate to treat them as hybrids in the register.

A similar entry in SLOH 1950: 140 for Den. rhodopterygium 'probably a natural hybrid, parishii x pierardii' should also be disregarded. See above.

Dendrobium rolfeae / Rolfeae is a name used for both an apparently natural hybrid and a grex with the parentage Den. primulinum x nobile. The World Monocots Checklist attributes the name Den. x rolfeae to Rolfe, without suggesting a parentage. However, Rolfe himself (Orchid Stud-Book 1909: 80) attributed the name to Reichenbach f. in Gard. Chron. 1888(1): 392 based on a plant imported by Sander and thought to be a natural hybrid. In Gard. Chron. 11: 525 (1892) the name is first applied to an artificial hybrid of the same parentage, and a number of cultivars were named. The grex epithet Pitcherianum was used for the reciprocal cross about 1900.

Dendrobium Jan Orinstein was registered as Den. aphyllum [pierardii] x primulinum in 1979. The reciprocal cross had already been named as Den. Venustum in 1920. However in Orch. Rev. 28(3): 92, 154 (1920) a note explains that this hybrid was renamed Den. primularidii Rolfe as the name Den. veustum Teijsm. & Binn. was already in use for a species and hence unavailable. It appears that Rolfe thought it could be a natural hybrid.

Epidendrum, Encyclia & Prosthechea

Work has commenced to gradually refine the nomenclature used in the register for this group.

Accordingly the following new hybrid genera are required:

Cattleychea [Ctyh.] = Cattleya Lindl. x Prosthechea Knowles & Westc.

Encyleyvola [Eyy.] = Brassavola R.Br. x Cattleya Lindl. x Encyclia Hook.

Epithechea [Etc.] = Epidendrum L. x Prosthechea Knowles & Westc.

Procatavola [Pcv.] = Brassavola R.Br. x Cattleya Lindl. x Prosthechea Knowles & Westc.

Proslaeliocattleya [Plc.] = Cattleya Lindl. x Laelia Lindl. x Prosthechea Knowles & Westc.

Prosavola [Psv.] = Brassavola R.Br. x Prosthechea Knowles & Westc.

Prostonia [Pros.] = Broughtonia R.Br. x Prosthechea Knowles & Westc.

Establishment of new groups

Cymbidium Norbert Gomes gx Shine On You Gp derived from Cym. sinense ‘Chin Wah Shan’ x Cym. ensifolium

Rubrigemum Gp. Made by Buddy F. Mark, April 1995, f. fl. 10 Oct 2003. Description: Flower form similar to Cym. sinense but petals open, not clasping the column. Sepals wine red with a central darker midrib. Petals base colour off-white, suffused green and striped lengthways with five wine-red stripes; the central stripe a darker wine-red colour. Lip cream, edged with irregular wine red blotches.

Vanda Rothschildiana gx Sancoerpink Group derived from V. sanderiana x V. coerulea Pink Flowered Gp. Description: Flowers large, round whitish-pink overlaid with deep magenta tessellation. Named by David Grove, who obtained a plant in Bangkok, Thailand. Mericlone plants are available.

Discerning readers may have noticed that most of the hybrid genera appearing in this supplement have appeared in previous issues. Due to a semantic point involving the wording of the list heading they were rejected by the indexing authorities at Kew under Art. 34.1b ICBN (2000). All these names have since been validated by publication elsewhere, effective 20th May 2005, and are listed here once again to make plain their validity.
