² Phalaenopsis Chain Xen Lady. Pollen parent originally listed as Phal. Taisuco Kalatine, which has been treated as a probable error for Taitung Palatine.

³ Phrag. Richard Lemay. J-P. Faust reports that the seed parent plant is not the natural hybrid to which the name Phrag. ecuadorensis is sometimes misapplied.

⁴ Spathoglottis Rolita. Ref. Spowart, R., Color in Spathoglottis breeding. In Proc. Flora Filipina Conf. 2006. & Philippine Hort. Primer & Directory 1(1): 40-43 (2006).

*New or new to registration, intergeneric hybrid genus with abbreviation (in square brackets after the genus name) for the following combinations. The botanical authority follows each component genus.

Kanetsunaara [Kun.] Kanetsuna & H.Gauda = Comparettia Poepp. & Endl. x Ionopsis Kunth x Oncidium Sw., named for the hybridiser, Hideyuki Kanetsuna.

Lawara [Lwr.] M.H.Law = Aerides Lour. x Arachnis Bl. x Christensonia Haager, named for Moi Hwa Law of Singapore.

Yinmunara [Ymn.] W.R.How = Ascocentrum Schltr. ex J.J.Sm. x Christensonia Haager x Rhynchostylis Bl., named for How Yin Mun.

REGISTRAR'S NOTES

Record of a Marketing Name (Trade Designation).

Paphiopedilum EINE KLEINA NACHTMUSIK has been recorded as a marketing device for the element of the grex Paph. First Touch (Paph. victoria-regina x Paph. sanderianum) that has been produced using the plant known as Paph. victoria-regina var. kalinae (Braem) Koop. (basionym: Paph. kalinae Braem.) as the seed parent. The cultivar 'Blackie' was the clone used by Jerry L. Fischer of Orchids Limited [Minnesota] to make this cross. He describes the flower as follows: "The petals are slightly twisted and have hairs along the margins. The dorsal sepal has mahogany markings along the veins. The pouch is a dirty purple color with mahogany spots. The staminodal sheath is dark green to purple in color." The origin and appropriate rank of Paph. kalinae is discussed by P. Cribb in his book, The Genus Paphiopedilum 2nd ed. 1998: 217.

Cymbidium "Meeark"

This name has been applied to plants raised from Cym. goeringii x Cym. kanran by Jong Suk Lee and collaborators, as described in Poster SO2-P-105, 27th Int. Hort. Congr. (IHC 2006), Korea. The hybrid has been synthesised using native Korean plants and apparently falls within Cym. x nishiuchianum. Plants selected from this grex have been called 'Meeark' and it is not clear if this epithet was intended at grex or cultivar level, as grex epithets are often mistakenly placed in inverted single commas in biological literature.

What is Bulbophyllum "veitchianum" ?

Plants under this name have been awarded by the AOS and used in breeding programmes. Recent applications to register some of these hybrids have necessitated enquiries, as this name is not listed by any authoritative nomenclators.

Doris Jensen in Canada who is working on a book on Bulbophyllum has kindly shared the benefit of her research. She explained, "There is rather a large number of *Bulbophyllum*s that have been provisionally named by Leslie Garay pending publication. Many of these have been awarded by the AOS and some have been used in breeding programmes. The plant in question is a very robust form of Bulb. lobbii with large pseudobulbs and broadly ovate leaves. The flowers are typical of the species but somewhat larger than usual and borne on a relatively short pedicel. The lip has three small, orange calli at the base. I consider it to be a variant of this extremely variable species. Even if Bulb. "veitchianum" were to be described and published by Garay, I am sure it would be promptly placed in synonymy with Bulb. lobbii by Jaap Vermeulen who is in the process of reviewing the large section Sestochilus to which Bulb. lobbii belongs. Bulbophyllum "veitchianum" at present is a nomen nudum and plants bearing this epithet are in breeding programmes, many collections (including mine), and have received several AOS awards as far back as 2002."

Because this name has no botanical standing, yet represents a wild population, and apparently several clones are in cultivation, it will be recorded in the Register as Bulbophyllum lobbii Veitchianum Group. This name is here formally established: Bulbophyllum lobbii Veitchianum Group consists of plants like typical Bulbophyllum lobbii which differ by larger pseudobulbs, broadly ovate leaves, larger flowers with a shorter pedicel, and lip with three small orange calli at the base.

As a consequence the cross Bulb. "veitchianum" x echinolabium for which the name A-doribil Spider has been proposed is included within Bulb. Jersey grex (Bulb. lobbii x echinolabium), and the cross Bulb. Jersey x "veitchianum" for which the name A-doribil Jerve has been proposed is included within Bulb. Maui Girl grex (Jersey x lobbii).

What is Calanthe "kawakamiensis"?

This name is used in the horticultural trade for a plant originally from a wild population in Taiwan that is a large form of Calanthe striata. As one Japanese supplier advertises it, it is "Calanthe sieboldii [= striata] on steroids."

There is no doubt that this name is incorrect and should be cited as Cal. kawakamiensis hort. It is a corrupted form of the name Cal. kawakamii which was described by Hayata in J. Coll. Sci. Univ. Tokyo 30(1): 330 (1911), and illustrated in Icon. Pl. Formosan. 4: 69, f. 32 (1914). The Kew World Monocots Checklist and second edition of Flora of Taiwan 5: 787 (2000) list Cal. kawakamii as a synonym of Calanthe striata. The standard work on Calanthe, Calanthe by Karasawa & Genjiro Ishida 1998, Yasaka Shobo Inc, Japan, also treats Cal. kawakamii as a synonym and does not mention the orthographic variant kawakamiensis.

Under the ICNCP various possibilities exist for coining a Group or cultivar name for this strong growing selection, including the use of the name Kawakamii as a Group or cultivar epithet. However, kawakamiensis is best treated as an orthographic error or a trade designation. APONAT has advised that the next edition of the RHS Plant Finder will list these plants as Calanthe striata Kawakamii Group. The accompanying issue of The Orchid Review contains a colour picture and short note on these plants.
