REGISTRAR'S NOTES

Cymbidium erythraeum* Lindl. and Cym. longifolium misapplied.

The registration of Cym. erythraeum Lindl. as a grex parent has revealed that it has been masquerading in the data base under the misapplied name Cym. longifolium, which name is properly a synonym of Cym. elegans Lindl. As a result the following two grexes need to have their parentage corrected Cym. Avdeew (1976); Cym. Gammieanum (1895).

Cym. × gammieanum King & Pantling is a putative natural hybrid known from Sikkim, regarding which, the parentage is accepted as Cym. elegans × Cym. erythraeum for registration, following Cribb & Du Puy (1988: 147). Based on cytology, Vij and Shekhar (J. Orchid Soc. India 1: 29-43, 1987) have suggested that the parents are Cym. elegans × Cym. iridoides. See Cribb, P. & Du Puy, D. (1988) The genus Cymbidium. Christopher Helm, London & Timber Press, Portland. p.118-119, photo. 88, 89 on p. 225. Hara, H., Stearn, W. T. & Williams, L. H. J. (1978) An enumeration of the plants of Nepal 1: 37. British Museum (Natural History).

Cypripedium speciosum* Rolfe replaced with Cyp. macranthos Sw.

In order to bring the names of Cypripedium species accepted for registration in to line with Cribb, The genus Cypripedium (1999), the synonymy given on page 197 under Cyp. macranthos has been adopted. This means that Cyp. speciosum is now viewed as a synonym of Cyp. macranthos with the following grex synonyms resulting.

Cyp. Carolin (1991) syn: Cyp. Tanja Pinkepank (1999)

Cyp. Philipp (1996) syn: Cyp. Francis (2001)

Cyp. Maria (1991) syn: Cyp. Gisela (1992).

Epidendrum atropurpureum* hort. replaced by Epi. cordigerum (HBK) Foldats

Although the name Epidendrum atropurpureum hort. is no longer accepted as a grex parent, as it is a misidentification of Epi. cordigerum (Encyclia cordigera), over 100 records persisted in the data base for registrations prior to 1984. These records have resulted in five cases of double registrations, two of which have been kindly pointed out by users of the web page grex search. To avoid further confusion all registrations prior to 1984 involving Epi. atropurpureum hort. as a grex parent have been changed to read Epi. cordigerum. This has resulted in the following grex synonyms.

Brassoepidendrum Arubiana (1950) syn: Bepi. Megan (1997)

Epi. Atropine (1962) syn: Epi. Green Glades (1986)

Epi. Gail Nakagaki (1955) syn: Epi. Butch Luce (1983)

Epi. Imon (1963) syn: Epi. Dixie Darling (1984)

Yamadara Tyl Eulenspiegel (4th March 1982) syn.: Yam. Misty Willow (20th Sept. 1982)

Habenaria* Willd. / Pecteilis Raf.

Accepting the generic treatment of the Habenaria group in Genera Orchidacearum 2: 298-303, 339, 345 (2001), the following changes have been implemented: Pecteilis Raf. (Abbreviation: Pec. ) has been separated from Habenaria Willd. Blephariglottis Raf. transferred as a synonym from under Habenaria to Platanthera Rich. (Abbreviation: P.)

The nothogenus Pectabenaria A.D. Hawkes, Orchids 244 (1961), (Abbreviation Pe.) = Habenaria Willd. x Pecteilis Raf. is now accepted for registration, and the following two grexes are now listed under it.

Pe. Original, formerly: Hab. Original (1912)

Pe. Yokohama, formerly: Hab. Yokohama (1956).

And one adjustment of a natural hybrid name: P. x andrewsii (White in Niles) Luer (1975) syn: Hab. x andrewsii White in Niles (1904).

Lycaste guatemalensis* Archila and *Lyc. ipala

Lycaste guatemalensis Archila in Revista Guatemal. Suppl. espec. 15(1-21) Nov. 1999 is the name at specific rank for the plant formerly included as Lyc. skinneri var. ipala Oakeley ined. and Lyc. ipala Oakeley ined., and will now be used in place of Lyc. ipala for grex registration. See also below.

Lycaste Hybrida* and Lyc. smeeana Rchb.f.

The hybrid Lycaste deppei x Lyc. skinneri was recorded, but not named, as the first artificial cross in Lycaste in the Gardeners's Chronicle 10: 535 (1878). It remained nameless until Veitch used the name Lyc. Hybrida in his Manual of Orchidaceous Plants 97 (1893). Lyc. smeeana Rchb.f. appeared in Gardeners's Chronicle 20: 198 (1883) as a natural hybrid of the same parentage from Guatemala. Therefore the name Lyc. smeeana has date priority and the name Lyc. Hybrida will be replaced in the data base by Lyc. smeeana.

Recently, Oakeley (pers. comm.) has expressed the opinion that this natural hybrid and the co-extensive grex in cultivation, are not the same as the plant described as Lyc. guatemalensis Archila or its horticultural synonym Lyc. skinneri var. ipala, which always displays a uniformly pink/purple lip. This opinion differs from the conclusion reached by Dix, M.A. & Dix, M.W. (2000) Orchids of Guatemala, a revised annotated checklist. p. 30, where Lyc. smeeana and Lyc. skinneri var. ipala are equated. According to Oakeley, the name Lyc. smeeana relates to plants originating from the humid zones north of Sierra de las Minas, Guatemala at 1,000m, where both parents co-occur. The plant is similar to Lyc. deppei except for coloration: pale green sepals with dense pink suffusion and spotting; petals white spotted rose and the lip shaped like Lyc. deppei but slightly wider, white spotted with rose. This matches illustrations in American Orchid Society Bulletin 52: 912, t.11 (1983) and Tinschert, O. & Behar, M. (1998) Guatemala and its orchids. Bancafé, Guatemala p. 155.

Parasarcophilus* Dockrill reduced to synonymy under Sarcophilus R. Br.

The nomenclature in the registration data base has been changed to follow the reduction of Parasarcophilus to synonymy under Sarcophilus by M.A. Clements in Catalogue of Australian Orchidaceae, Australian Orchid Research 1:131-134 (1989). This has resulted in the transfer of all 23 grexes registered under the nothogenus Parachilus M. Wreford & I.A. Butler in Orch. Rev. 80(945): 63 (March 1972) to Sarcophilus. Happily, there are no grex homonyms as a result.

This change also necessitates the reduction of the nothogenus Sarpariza B.Gerhard & P.F.Hunt in Orch. Rev. 107(1226): 125, 126 (Mar. 1999) to synonymy under Plectochilus J.E.Rumril & J.Greatwood in Orch. Rev. 84(1000): centre page pullout p.13 (Oct. 1976).

Furthermore the transfer of Sarcophilus moorei (Rchb.f.) Schltr. to the genus Rhinerrhiza Rupp to become Rhin. moorei (Rchb.f.) Clements, Wallace & Jones in Australian Orchid Research 1: 128-129 (1989), also requires that the grex Sarco. Aussie Moor Man be transferred to Rhinophilus J. Greatwood in Orch. Rev. 80(949): 140 (July 1972). See also Lewis, B.A. & Cribb, P. (1991) Orchids of the Solomon Islands and Bougainville 266-268, fig. 69.

Pleione speciosa* Ames & Schltr. replaced by Pln. pleionoides (Kraenzl.) Braem & Mohr

In order to bring nomenclature in the data base in to line with Cribb & Butterfield, The genus Pleione (1999), the following parents of registered grexes have been changed.

As a consequence of research published by Cribb & Butterfield, Little known and confused species of Pleione, in The New Plantsman 8(3): 138-146 (2001), the following changes in registered grex parents have been effected in the data base.

Seed parent changed from Pln. chunii to Pln. aurita.

Pleione* natural hybrids and co-extensive grexes

Following application of ICNCP Art. 16.2 regarding co-extensive taxa, the Pleione grexes listed below become synonyms of described natural hybrids.

Pln. x christianii (= Pln. yunnanensis x forrestii) syn. Pln. Krakatoa

Pln. x kohlsii (= Pln. aurita x forrestii) syn. Pln. Edgecombe

Pln. x taliensis (= Pln. bulbocodioides x yunnanensis) syn. Pln. Archie Goodwin

Diacritical signs

ICBN Art. 60.6 has been implemented in the data base resulting in the removal of all diacritical signs from Latin names and generic abbreviations, but not grex and cultivar names. Thus genera formerly presented as Aërides are now present as Aerides. This will have the advantage of making the web version much easier to search.
