IT'S ALL IN THE HISTORY

The story goes back to 1845 when we made our first candle in the heart of London. By appointment to Her Majesty the Queen, this historic London company is the ultimate candle maker.

With over 175 years of experience, Charles Farris is now a world leader in luxury candles and home products. Working with master blenders to create unique and beautiful scents, we craft our candles using traditional techniques and high-quality ingredients.
