*New intergeneric hybrid genus with abbreviation for the following combination. The botanical authority follows each component genus.

Galeodes R. Levy & JMH Shaw nothogen. nov. (Gds.) = Galeandra Lindl. x Mormodes Lindl. Breeding group 6.

Laegoa W.A. Rhodamel & JMH Shaw nothogen. nov. (Lga.) = Domingoa Schltr. x Laelia Lindl. (Breeding group 7).

Morieara T. Morie & JMH Shaw nothogen. nov. (Moi.) = Doritis Lindl. x Neofinetia Hu x Phalaenopsis Blume x Rhynchostylis Blume. (Breeding group 9). The name commemorates the originator Mr. Tsuneo Morie of Japan. [The name is similar to Moriera Boiss., a small genus of Central Asian crucifers, but it seems unlikely that confusion would arise.]

€Natural genera new to registration.

Thrixspermum Lour. (Tx.) (Breeding group 9).

¶ Species appearing for the first time as parents in registration: Aërides roseum Loddiges ex Lindl. & Paxton [see note below]; Calanthe x dominyi Lindl. CORRECTIONS

Dendrobium Fireball. Please correct this entry in Orch. Rev. Suppl. 110: 21 (March 2002) to read Den. Bingo as there is already a Den. Fire Ball (1971), which would easily cause confusion.

Renades Arunoday. Please change seed parent to Aërides roseum in SLOH Addendum 1986-1990 p. 3, 711.

Paphiopedilum fairreanum. In Orch. Rev. Suppl. 110: 28, (March 2002) please change the year appearing in the third line of paragraph 8 from 1957 to read 1857.

Paphiopedilum Hsinying Pariplaty. In Orch. Rev. Suppl. 110: 8, (Jan. 2002), the pollen parent of this grex should read Paph. stonei and not Paph. platyphyllum. Therefore this grex name becomes a synonym of Paph. Frank Booth (1984). Also please delete the entry of Paph. platyphyllum on p. 11 under Species appearing for the first time. See note below.

Paphiopedilum Nivinia. There is an error in the registered name appearing in SLOH Addendum 1986-1990, p. 485 where it appears as Nirvinia.

Phalaenopsis Marsha Worther This grex appeared in the New Orchid Hybrids list with the Orch. Rev. 109(1239) p. 11 (May 2001) with the pollen parent erroneously listed as Phal. First Lady . Please correct this to read Phal. Lady's First.

REGISTRAR'S NOTES

Aërides roseum* Loddiges ex Lindl. & Paxton

Formerly treated as a synonym of Aërides multiflorum Roxb., from which it may be distinguished by a triangular, sharply acute mid-lobe of the lip and an ovary and pedicel exceeding 1 cm in length, this taxon is now recognised as a species for registration following several recent publications. The name has also been spelled as Aërides rosea. However, the genus takes its name from the Greek Aer, air, which is neuter, and this should be reflected by the inflection of the specific epithet as roseum (neuter) rather than rosea which is feminine. Aërides fieldingii Williams and Aër. williamsii Warner remain as synonyms of Aërides roseum. For description see: Pearce, N. R. & Cribb, P. J. (2002) The Orchids of Bhutan p. 495, published as Flora of Bhutan 3(3), by RBG Edinburgh & Royal Government of Bhutan. For illustration see: Bechtel, Cribb & Launert (1986) The manual of cultivated orchid species p. 229.

Calanthe x dominii* Lindl. and Cal. Dominyi.

Calanthe Dominyi, named after John Dominy its originator, is well known as the first artificial orchid hybrid on record. It was initially described by Lindley in Gardeners Chronicle Jan. 2nd, 1858 p.4 as Calanthe dominii and then subsequently appeared in the Botanical Magazine 84: t.5042 (1858). Although the grex name has been recorded by Sander and subsequently entered the register as Dominyi, it was originally named dominii. Presumably Lindley Latinized the originator's name as Dominius, hence the derived epithet dominii, rather than adding -i to the surname as currently encouraged by the ICBN. There appears to be no justification for changing the orthography of Lindley's epithet, consequently the grex name will be changed in the database, reverting to its original form.

This has come to light because of an application to register Cal. kintaroi Yamamoto (1934) as a grex parent (the applicant using the spelling kinteroi). Huang T-S. et al., (eds.) in Flora of Taiwan 2nd ed. (2000) p.791 point out that this is a synonym along with Cal. matsumurana Schltr. (1909) and Cal. albo-longicalcarata S. S. Ying (1974) of the natural hybrid Cal. triplicata [syn. furcata] x Cal. sylvatica [syn. masuca] for which the earliest published name happens to be Cal. dominii Lindl.

Lindley did not preserve a flower or an inflorescence at the time the description was made. However an inflorescence taken from the same plant as featured in the Botanical Magazine was preserved in the Kew Herbarium in 1861. The label states quite clearly that it came from the original hybrid made by Dominy and Rolfe has annotated the sheet that it can be taken as the type. It is a clonotype and is here suggested as a neotype. The same plant flowered regularly until 1923 and pressed specimens were made of it in 1888, 1889, 1890, 1922 and 1923. Advice from Phillip Cribb is gratefully acknowledged.

Dendrobium obtusipetalum* J. J. Smith and *Den. "obtusisepalum"

A recent request to register Den. "obtusisepalum" as a grex parent has brought to light a widespread orthographic error. Unfortunately, this invalid name is now in general use for the plant originally described as Den. obtusipetalum by J. J. Smith in Bull. Jard. Bot. Buitenz. Ser. II. 2: 13 (1911). The plant in question appears under its pseudonym in Lavarack, B., Harris, W., & Stocker, G., (2000) Dendrobium and its relatives p. 132 (photo), 134. See also AOS Awards Quarterly 31(3): 177 photo, (2000) & 32(3): 136 (2001). Furthermore, some plants in cultivation under this name may represent an as yet undetermined taxon, see Dendrobium and its relatives p. 134 (photo).

Paphiopedilum platyphyllum* T.Yukawa.

Described in Die Orchidee 52(1): 84-86 (2001), this taxon has been known in cultivation as Paph. stonei var. latifolium hort. since the early 1980s at least. It differs from Paph. stonei mainly in flower base colour and leaf width, which according to Phillip Cribb are not reliable characters in Paphiopedilum. This taxon was admitted to the register as a grex parent by error and is no longer accepted as distinct form Paph. stonei at species rank. See Cribb, P. (1998) The genus Paphiopedilum 2nd ed. p. 148. In order to provide a valid name for this plant at an infraspecific rank the following combination is proposed. Paphiopedilum stonei var. platyphyllum (T.Yukawa) JMH Shaw comb. et stat. nov. Basionym: Paphiopedilum platyphyllum T.Yukawa in Die Orchidee 52(1): 84-86 (2001).

AUTHORS OF ORCHID NOTHOGENERA

It has become apparent that many of the names currently used for hybrid genera in orchid registration have not been verified. Some are illegitimate under the Codes of nomenclature for various reasons. Although there have been valuable attempts in the past to remedy the situation, notably those of Garay and Sweet in Withner, The Orchids - Scientific studies (1974) p. 485-561, there exists no comprehensive list which gives full author citations and references to publication as well as an indication of validity. In order to remedy this situation the ICRA for Orchid Hybrids has commenced work on a project to verify all orchid nothogeneric names by reference to original publication and ascertain authorship. The RHS orchid registrars have acted as co-author for many of these nothogenera through the pages of The Orchid Review and bibliographic research has determined the dates given below for their activity. Many other registrants have also authored nothogenera and a full list is in preparation.
