According to the registrant this plant represents an undescribed species that is incorrectly included under Pol. campyloglossa in Fl. Zambes. 11(2): 352 (1998). Isobyl La Croix, who authored the FZ account, commented that at the time she felt the herbarium specimens available were a reasonable match to material of Pol. campyloglossa, but accepted that live material may reveal characters that are lost on pressing. She suggested that further research with live plants was needed to resolve the identity of this plant.]; Pol. johnstonii Rolfe; Pol. lawrenceana Kraenzl.; Pol. mauritiana Spreng.; Pol. sandersonii Harv.; Scelochilus langlasei Schltr.; Spathoglottis portus-finschii Kraenzl., appears in O'Byrne, Lowland Orchids of Papua New Guinea: 68-69 (1994) as "portusfinschii"; Stenoglottis "molweniensis" G.McDonald nom. prov. in South African Orch. CORRECTIONS

Ascocenda Kangla The pollen parent was originally recorded as Ascocentrum aurantiacum (Schltr.) Schltr. and has been re-determined by Ron McHutton as Ascocentrum ampullaceum var. aurantiacum Pradhan.

The Clowesetum hybrid derived from Clowsia Grace Dunn x Ctism. Susan Fuchs has been registered twice. The name Tan Kim Ping (2001) takes priority over Creative Lanterns (2004), which becomes a synonym of the former.

Cymbidium Cliff Hutchings appeared in SLOH Addendum 2002-2004: 143 with the seed parent as Cym. Sedenii, which should be changed to Cym. Lowio-grandiflorum.

Dendrobium Yukikomachi appeared in Orch. Rev. Suppl. 113(1264): 7 (2005) as Yuki Komchi. Please correct the spelling.

Phragmipedium Wössner Twist was originally registered by F. Glanz in 2001 with Phrag. warscewiczianum as the pollen parent, which would make this grex a synonym of Phrag. Predator. However, examination of the pollen parent plant by Olaf Gruss has confirmed its redetermination as Phrag. caudatum, and hence this grex is accepted as distinct from Phrag. Predator.

REGISTRAR'S NOTES

A new combination in Guarianthe for Cattleya x pachecoi

According to Fritz Hamer in Stevens et al., Flora de Nicaragua 2: 1642 (2001), experimental work has shown that C. x pachecoi Ames & Correll represents a natural hybrid between C. aurantiaca and C. x guatemalensis (itself a natural hybrid of C. aurantiaca x C. skinneri), which are all now included in the genus Guarianthe Dressler & W.E. Higgins (see Lankesteriana 7: 37-3 (2003); Genera Orch. 4: 251-254). Because this is a back-cross to C. aurantiaca, one of the parents of C. x guatemalensis, it has to be included within the concept called C. x guatemalensis and cannot be designated as a separate taxon at species rank (ICBN Art. H.4.) Hence, it is treated as a synonym of C. x guatemalensis by Withner (The Cattleyas, vol. 1: 63, 64 illustr.). The World Monocots Checklist has treated C. x pachecoi as a synonym of Guarianthe skinneri, however, several Floras of central American regions including Fl. Nicaragua l.c. and Ames & Correll, Orchids of Guatemala & Belize (1985 edition): 412, recognise this as a distinct taxon and draw similarities with C. aurantiaca rather than C. skinneri. Dix & Dix, Orchids of Guatemala, a revised and annotated checklist (2000: 58), treats C. x pachecoi as part of C. x guatemalensis.

It is a useful name to apply to the distinctive yellow variants within the hybrid swarm, (which for lack of a suitable combination are often labeled 'Yellow' or 'Yellow Form', which is contrary to ICNCP Art. 19.19 & Rec. 19D.1). According to ICBN Art. H.12.1., a name may be used for a subordinate taxon within a nothospecies. Accordingly the following new combination is proposed:

Guarianthe x guatemalensis* var. *pachecoi (Ames & Correll) J.M.H.Shaw comb. et stat. nov. Basionym: Cattleya pachecoi Ames & Correll, in Amer. Orch. Soc. Bull. 11: 401 (1943).

A new combination is also provided for the plant known as Cattleya deckeri: Guarianthe deckeri (Klotzsch) J.M.H.Shaw comb. nov. Basionym: Cattleya deckeri Klotzsch in Allg. Gartenzeitung 23: 81 (1855). As this is often cleistogamic it has been little used to produce orchid hybrids.

Implementation of changes from Genera Orchidacearum volume 4

At the May 2007 meeting of APOHR it was unanimously agreed that the generic limits proposed in Genera Orchidacearum vol. 4, and taken up by the Kew World Monocots Checklist, should be adopted and implemented in the International Register of Orchid Hybrids. Consequently many new nothogenera are required, some of which are here validated in accordance with ICBN Art. H.9.1. They are authored by J.M.H. Shaw, unless otherwise stated. Work on this major undertaking has already started. To complete the adjustment of nomenclature in the Register will require several months, and during this period some records in the on-line version of the Register temporarily may be under an incorrect generic placement.

The main changes involve the separation of Rhyncholaelia from Brassavola, separation of Guarianthe from Cattleya, and the transfer of Brazilian Laelias to Sophranitis. Schomburgkia species are now divided between Laelia and Myrmecophila.

This means that a grex formerly regarded as Brassolaeliocattleya, could now be regarded as Rhyncholaelia (Brassavola) x Sophranitis (Laelia) x Guarianthe (Cattleya), or any combination of these genera.

Masdevallia erinacea and Diodonopsis erinacea

A further consequence of GO4 implementation is the transfer of Masdevallia erinacea to the genus Diodonopsis, as Ddo. erinacea (Rchb.f.) Pridgeon & M.W. Chase, which requires the formation of a new hybrid genus to accommodate three registered greges. Consequently the following hybrid genus is here established: Diovallia [Dvl.] J.M.H.Shaw hyb. gen. nov. = Diodonopsis Pridgeon & M.W. Chase x Masdevallia Ruiz & Pav.

A new combination in Laeliocattleya Rolfe

Following the reduction of Schomburgkia Lindl. to synonymy under Laelia Lindl. (Gen. Orch. 4: 265-271. 2005), a new combination is required for a natural hybrid originally described in Schombolaelia J.O'Brien & Rolfe.

Laeliocattleya pernambucensis (L.C.Menezes) J.M.H.Shaw comb. nov. Basionym: Schombolaelia pernambucensis L.C.Menezes in Orchid Digest 55(4): 190 (1991), reprinted in Bol. CAOB [Coordenadoria das associações orquídeas de Brasil] 3(4): 16 (1991).

Originally thought to represent the hybrid Schomburgkia moyobambae x Cattleya labiata, it is suggested in Gen. Orch. 4: 270 that the parentage is probably Laelia undulata x C. labiata.
