

ANDREW MARTIN

Andrew Martin returns to RHS Chelsea Flower Show with spectacular stand and new collection

Following a successful debut last year, design powerhouse Andrew Martin is set to make a triumphant return to the RHS Chelsea Flower Show, captivating visitors with a spectacular stand showcasing the latest outdoor furniture, fabrics, and cushions.

Located at stand RBG113, the Andrew Martin exhibit will have a mesmerising waterfall at its centre, cascading over 12,000 litres of water and transforming the space into an oasis reminiscent of a lost city garden. Collaborating with Pinewood Studios, renowned for their movie-making magic, Andrew Martin brings cinematic enchantment to the world's most prestigious flower show. Meanwhile, founder Martin Waller's distinctive interior design concepts seamlessly merge indoor and outdoor living, creating a truly immersive experience.

The stand will showcase Andrew Martin's newest fabric and cushion collection, Argonaut, alongside the brand's best-selling outdoor range. Inspired by legendary tales and faraway lands, Argonaut comprises three outdoor fabric designs available in a variety of colours.

Argo: Named after the ship from Greek mythology, built by the gods to help Jason and the Argonauts sail from Iolcos to Colchis to retrieve the Golden Fleece, Argo features a vertical stripe design with an irregular stitch effect in rich spice colours, fresh denim blues, and smart faded greys.

Trojan: Drawing inspiration from the ancient city of Troy, Trojan boasts an ornate geometric pattern and highlighted stitch. Available in warm colours, fresh white with denim blues, and neutral greys, Trojan adds a touch of timeless elegance to any outdoor setting.

Azorus: Transporting you to the beautiful beaches of North Africa, Azorus is a Moroccan-inspired textile with a faded ground and intricate printed stitch motifs. Available in faded denim and grey, Azorus evokes a sense of exotic charm and sophistication.

Since 1978, Andrew Martin has been at the forefront of global interior design, shaping furniture, fabric, and wallpaper trends through the decades.

Founder Martin Waller is often described as 'the Indiana Jones' of interior design, known for his adventurous spirit, endless curiosity and innovative approach. A trip to the brand's showrooms in London has been likened to 'stepping into Aladdin's Cave', offering a beautiful mix of new furniture designs, exotic objects, and antiques that create a memorable shopping experience.

A visit to Andrew Martin's impressive stand at the RHS Chelsea Flower Show promises to deliver the same sense of adventure, celebrating creativity, innovation, and effortless integration of design into outdoor living spaces. Visitors are invited to embark on a sensory journey, where imagination knows no bounds and every corner reveals a new world of possibilities.

3-4a Little Portland Street
London W1W 7JB

rebecca@purepr.com | paola@purepr.com | millie@purepr.com
W - www.purepr.com T - @pureprlondon I - @pureprlondon