

FELCO's range expands,
reaches and protects

FELCO are strengthening their reach in 2024 with the 682 & 684 Pole Saws and 290 Pole Pruner.

Dealing with trees, overreaching branches, tops of hedges and all cutting tasks up high can prove precarious on a good day. The drive for safe gardening practises is apparent within all FELCO's new lines for 2024.

For the professional arborist, no two jobs are the same. FELCO's new line of long reach pruning solutions offer an efficient, safe, and reliable option to those regularly working at height.

For the home gardener, tasks range in size, from picking up petals to dealing with overgrown branches. FELCO's new range offers home gardeners the chance to take back control of those previously out of reach places.

- Save money – take control of those hard-to-reach tasks
- Save time – less equipment and set-up needed for bigger jobs
- Work safely – reduce the need for climbing or positioning ladders on uneven ground
- Less exertion – avoid overstretching or working in unnatural positions

The FELCO 682 Pole Saw is the ideal tool for landscapers, arborists, and hobby gardeners. It features a lightweight aluminium pole with one or three(model 684) extensions, a 330mm curved blade and can reach a total length of 3.4 m or 6.4m(684) when fully extended.

The non-stick coating on the blade, and the ergonomic grip of the pole make the FELCO 290 Pole Pruner an incredibly efficient, easy to use and reliable tool. Whilst the Pole Saw is ideal for the bigger cutting jobs, the Pole Pruner is the perfect option for those who need precision and manoeuvrability. Its durable and lightweight aluminium pole extends up to 2.67m.

FELCO's range of garden tools are made to last, crafted from high-quality, sustainable materials, each with a lifetime warranty. The Trowel is perfect at digging holes for planting seeds, plants and flowers, while the Cultivator is ideal for breaking up soil and preparing garden beds. The Weeder excels at removing weeds in vegetable gardens, fruit tree basins and around vineyard plantings, while the Fork can be used for aerating soil and turning compost. Finally, the Swiss Hori-Hori is an essential tool to dig up tap rooted weeds in lawns and gardens.

FELCO's range of garden PPE grows & grows...

FELCO have further expanded their range of garden gloves with two fantastic new models.

These great new additions mean that FELCO enthusiasts will have an even wider portfolio of products to choose from, and greater assistance with simple tasks or large garden projects.

The FELCO 704 High Cut Resistant Gloves and the 705 Rose Gloves have been designed with a focus on personal protection from cuts, and thorn resistance for rose gardening. Both maintain FELCO's PPE key features: ergonomics, quality and performance, and meet the needs of professional users and enthusiastic amateur gardeners.

FELCO's 704 High Cut Resistant Gloves have been developed to protect hands against the risks of minor physical injuries while pruning. Available in 5 different sizes (from S to XXL), the gloves adapt to the shape of your hand for the greatest comfort and protection while pruning.

The FELCO 705 Rose Gloves have been crafted with premium, puncture resistant top grain cow leather, and are soft, flexible and strong. The gauntlet cuff protects your forearms from thorns, allowing you to enjoy picking every rose. Functional and stylish, the FELCO Rose Gloves are ideal for any keen gardener.

FELCO's new Apron is made from genuine buffalo leather, combining elegance and durability. The adjustable neck and hip straps ensure a perfect fit for gardeners of all sizes. Designed to sit comfortably above the knees, allowing you to bend, kneel, and move with ease.
